

Alba · archive 8

The Alba sensor uses green light at 530 nm to measure turbidity. It does not measure oxygen concentration. Calibration is required every 30 days.

Source: Nodus QA synthetic archive.